I studied Creative Writing, Business Management & Real Estate at Cuesta College and Allan Hancock College and proceeded to get my State Contractors License and start my own construction site clean-up/janitorial/maintenance business. Passionate about writing I'm a self-published author of several short romances and two books on juicing. I've written several spec scripts and pilots and continue to write daily. While I've written two Drama's, both based on a true story, I am most at home writing Thriller/ Suspense, Crime Thrillers & Horror. When I'm not writing I'm spending time with my children and grandchildren. I'm experienced, trustworthy, reliable, focused, exceptionally organized, can think around a problem and can multitask with the best of them. My passion is in screenplay writing & creating pilots for the TV and cable networks.
